Premier Strategies, Inc. Launches Non-Partisan Political Club

New York, NY - Gregory Kirsopp, Founding Partner of Premier Strategies, Inc. in conjunction with Nick Sterlacci, Founder and CEO of Polliticly, are proud to announce the launch of their non-partisan, political club, the New York Power & Politics Club, via the new social media application, Clubhouse.

The New York Power & Politics Club features weekly discussions around pressing local, state, and federal topics; as well as weekly town halls with prominent legislators, civic leaders, and/or candidates from across New York State. The club seeks to offer a non-partisan window into New York politics. Thereby allowing for an open dialogue amongst club membership around important topics facing New York city and state.

The club will feature an impressive team of moderators including Ahsia Badi, the New York Census Director for Emgage and former Vice-Chair of New York City Community Board 6, as well as Premier Strategies, Inc. Co-Founder, Alexa April Cardena.

The club will host its first event, an interview with New York City Councilman Keith Powers, on February 17, 2021 at 12:00PM via the Clubhouse app. To learn more visit the club's website, www.NYPowerandPolitics.Club or follow New York Power & Politics on Clubhouse.
