Connecting Constituents to Their Elected Officials

Manhattan, NY - Premier Strategies, Inc. is proud to announce our new partnership with the civic engagement and mobile application company, Pollitcly.

Pollitcly is a mobile application that connects constituents with their local government officials, as well as provides elected officials with valuable insights to be used in local community decision making. Pollitcly amplifies the voice of its users by allowing them to vote on a feed of polls, create polls, and send messages directly to their government officials.

Pollitcly Founder and CEO, Nick Sterlacci had this to say of the partnership,

“By joining forces with Premier Strategies, Pollitcly gains a tremendous boost in direct connectivity with elected officials across New York and the nation...the app will only grow in success, from here, and we’re excited for the future of our company and this partnership.”

Pollitcly can be downloaded directly from any iOS device, and will soon be available on Android.
